DYE IT. FOLD IT. MEND IT. Local non-profit creative reuse and art center ReCreative Denver invites you to a night of exploring fabric through a variety of hands-on activities with local artists, makers and community members on Friday, March 22nd 2019 from 6:30-10pm.

Event attendees of ReDefine: FABRIC will get their hands dirty experiencing activities like yarn dying with Independence Street Yarn, making t-shirt tote bags with the Denver Sewing Collective and a (giant) collaborative weaving station. Additional activities include yarn wrapping with ReCreative resident artist Kim Mirus, Fabric Feels: Scraps + Stories with betterish, a costume display and a TBD activity with Denver refugee non-profit We Made This.

The ReDefine series topics are chosen based on materials ReCreative Denver sees donated most frequently in order to showcase their wide range of uses and to inspire people to engage in creative reuse in their own lives. Each ReDefine event begins with an open-to-the-public brainstorm to ensure the event has buy-in and participation from ReCreative's diverse community. The ReDefine series was launched in November 2018 with ReDefine: WOOD and continued with ReDefine: PAPER, which received coverage from 303 Magazine, Westword and Do303. Stay tuned for the next ReDefine event.
