

ReCreative Denver's ReDefine: PAPER — Event Press Release
Local Artists Lead Hands-On Activities Exploring Everyday Resource

For Immediate Release December 21st, 2018

Press Contact: Jane McDonald, jane@recreativedenver.org

CUT. PASTE. FOLD. Local non-profit creative reuse and art center ReCreative Denver invites you to a night of exploring paper through a variety of hands-on activities with local artists, makers and community members on Friday, January 18th 2019 from 6:30-10pm.

Event attendees of ReDefine: PAPER will flow through the large warehouse space experiencing activities including zine making with the Denver Zine Library, collage with artist Peter Yumi, blackout poetry with Spit Poet Publishing and sign making for the Denver Womxn's March with Denver Makes! Other activity partners are currently being confirmed including a snail mail station and Denver's First Ever Paper Plane Olympics!

The ReDefine series topics are chosen based on materials the organization's creative reuse store sees donated most frequently in order to showcase their wide range of uses and inspire how we all have access to creatively repurpose everyday resources. Each ReDefine event begins with an open-to-the-public brainstorm to ensure the event has buy-in and participation from ReCreative's diverse community. The ReDefine series was launched in November 2018 with ReDefine: WOOD and will continue in March with ReDefine: Fabric.
